Tea Pairing Menu

You will find that tea is versatile and any given type can be paired with a variety of foods, ranging from savory to sweet. Always let YOUR palate be your guide; if you like a certain tea with a certain food, and it isn't on the "recommended list", then make up your own list.

Cheese and Tea

All cheese plates served with fruit and crackers

English Stilton- doesn't just taste good but it's crammed with goodness. A rich creamy and mellow blue cheese that is excellent with fruity teas. Made only in England from cows milk, Stilton is one of the grand cheeses of the world. $5.45

Ginger Peach Oolong, Tropical Green, Berry Hibiscus*

Manchego- has a firm and compact consistency with a buttery texture, and often contains small, unevenly-distributed air pockets. Made in Spain, this cheese has a distinctive flavor; well developed but not too strong, creamy with a slight piquancy, and leaves an aftertaste that is characteristic of sheep's milk. $5.45

Japan Genmaicha, Wuyi Oolong, Gong Fu Black*

French Brie- is a soft cows' cheese named after Brie, the French province in which it originated. It is loved for its mild, milky flavor and creamy texture. The whitish mouldy rind is typically eaten, the flavor quality of which depends largely upon the ingredients used and its fabrication environment. $4.95

Bao Zhong Emerald Oolong, Ginger Peach Oolong, Coconut Assam*

Wensleydale with Cranberries- is a firm, mild cow milk cheese from the dales north of London. This hand-made Yorkshire cheese is a mild cheese with an acidic-honeyed flavor filled with cranberries. $4.95

Cacao Chi, Gong Fu Black, Sweet Desert Delight*
